Seminar

This fall, Gowling WLG is hosting a number of breakfast seminars as part of our Insight Series. The informative seminars will include discussions on recent legal developments, emerging trends and issues that will have an impact on your business.

Join Gowling WLG intellectual property professionals Lisa Thorne and Edith Penty Geraets as they review some of the most important patent practice developments from around the globe in 2019. Featured topics include the new changes to the Canadian Patent Act and Patent Rules, European priority practice and recent practice trends from the United States.

This session is an intermediate-level seminar targeted at CEOs, patent managers and in-house counsel who are already familiar with the patenting process.

This seminar is eligible for up to 1 hour toward the LSBC's CPD requirement.

Other seminars in the series:

- Sept. 12 | New cannabis products: Regulatory and IP considerations for edibles, topicals and extracts
- Sept. 25 | Protecting your AI investment using patent applications
- Oct. 3 | Patent and regulatory affairs in the pharmaceutical market
- Oct. 16 | Data protection: What Canadian companies need to know about operating in or trading with the European Union
