In celebration of World Intellectual Property Day and this year's "Innovate for a Green Future" theme, Gowling WLG invites you to a live webinar exploring the major opportunities and challenges that surround the protection of clean technologies in Canada.

On April 30, join our partners Brian Lee and Roch Ripley as they discuss a number of key topics in this area, including:

- Innovation and patent trends in Canada's clean technology sector
- Available financial and other resources in support of clean technology innovation
- Clean technology IP protection in times of crisis and challenging economic conditions
- Portfolio managements tips and strategies to control costs and preserve rights

*This webinar counts for up to 1 hour of Substantive credits toward the mandatory annual CPD requirement.
