

SHAMIL GIZATULLIN, PHD

Patent Attorney

Speaks: English, Russian

 +7 495 139 8211

 +7 495 787 2071

 shamil.gizatullin@gowlingwlg.com

Primary office: Moscow

Shamil Gizatullin, PhD

Shamil is a patent attorney focusing on patent prosecution in life sciences and chemistry before the Russian Patent Office and in the CIS countries.

Prior to joining Gowling WLG, Shamil worked as an engineer at Schlumberger and 3M and held scientific research positions in the field of organic chemistry. Shamil also has several years of experience as an examiner with the Russian Patent Office, the department of organic chemistry and polymer materials.

Shamil holds a master's degree in chemical engineering from D. Mendeleev University of Chemical Technology of Russia. In 2017, Shamil earned his PhD in organic chemistry from the Department of Macromolecular Compounds at Moscow Technological University.

Shamil practises in English and Russian.

Expertise

Energy

Life Sciences

Intellectual Property

IP Litigation & Strategy

Patents

Chemicals

Career & Recognition

2018

Russian Patent Attorney

Eurasian Patent Attorney

2017

June

Moscow Technological University, PhD, Organic Chemistry

2015

Gowling WLG, Patent Consultant

2013

3M, Advanced Product Engineer

2010

Schlumberger, Project Engineer

2008

Mendeleev University of Chemical Technology of Russia, M.Sc.E. in Chemical Engineering
(Organic Chemistry)

Russian Patent Office, Patent Examiner

Memberships

- Chamber of Patent Attorneys of Russian Federation